On motion of Alderman Harry two thousand five hundred copies of the budget were ordered to be printed, and the document was referred to the Finance Committee. A communication was received from Mayor Gunther, respecting the proper ventilation of tonement houses, and referred to the Committee on Public Health.

HIN HARGOLIO IN THE CITY INSPECTOR'S DEPARTMENT.
The following communication was received from City Inspector Boole.

The following communication was received supported to the process of the department, founded on relative to the operations of this department, founded one as answer made by an officer of this department, nomes N. Carr, Superintendent of Santary Inspection, to retain inquiries propounded by citizent of the Eighteenth at Twenty first wards, which inquiries and answer were majored by him.

ious and ignorant misapprehension of his duties by the oper referred to.
To proceed in the order in which his honor the Mayor has sented to you the statements made by Mr. Carr, I will ply first to the following paragraph:—"The report states it $8118.000 are annually paid for salaries and $20,000 r contingencies, which latter is purely an election fund; of further, that $60,000 taken from this $133,000 would be sufficient to give full efficiency to the labors of this destribute.

ill sufficient to give full efficiency to the labors of this deartment."

If this statement be correct, it is a matter with which the present City Inspector had nothing whatever to do, the appropriations for salaries and contingencies having been made previous to his assumption of the office. Of the contingent fund spoken of, there was very little left when he same into office, and upon being informed of the fact he proceeded immediately to discharge every employe paid out of that fund whose services could possibly be dispensed with. With regard to the salaries paid to officers of the lepartment, those officers were established by ordinance, and the City Inspector could not ignore the ordinance creating the offices and fixing the salaries.

If any of these officers neglected their duties, it was not within my knowledge; for all of those conting under my way personal observation I know to have performed their utiles; and if any of those not coming under my way observation neglected theirs, it was the duty of the head of the own.

an which they held appointments to report the same pears now, however, by his own statements, that the standard of Sanitary Inspection must have most begiecied his duties, as, notwithstanding his assertion one of the duties pertaining to him as such Sundent were intrusted to him. I am compelled to say a only duty of which, he was releved was the outpernitandence of street cleaning, which I took charge bonally, assisted by the Deputy Superintendent. This ascertiance with my promise that I would myself the streets are the standard of the streets, this duty I would have left in his hands, to be perhormed in the previous fifthy condition of the streets, this duty I would have left in his hands, to be permitted upon my duties I found that Mr. Carr was visionary ideas, without one particle of practical businification, and that his mind was so constituted that Id not believe any one correct who presumed to difficulting the state of the performance of the streets.

In printendence of the work.

In acception, all other duties devolving upon the acception and other duties of Sanitary Inspection, by law or ordinance, of certify all accounts of the duty to supervise, deer duty I have always composed he performed, as rolls, up to December 19, 1953, were officially certified. m.

ond statement of his Honor the Mayor, founded Carr's communication, is "that the city at I denpay for work (that need not have cost it one cent) I forty thousand dollars to fifty thousand dollars In addition to this, there are cierks in this dewhoreceive from six hundred dollars to two thouses a year, who have never performed an hour's not pay him, and stating that the work was "worth twelve cents per load, and that he had been getting that price and could not afford to do it for lows.

The next statement of his Honor the Mayor is that "the present annual cost of the Sanitary Department, as stated, is an hundred and eighty three thousand dollars; it report says other estimates on a liberal scale would be, for sanitary priposes, salaries and contingendes included, sixty thousand dollars; street cleaning, allowing for increase of pay to men since the completion of the endmate, two hundred and ten and the contingent of the contingent said resolution."

This statement, like the previous one, is founded upon the communications of Mr. Carr, and, like them, contains a modeum of truth with which to veil a willful perversion of the facts. No resolution of the kind ever passed the Common Council. When I came into office, June 23, 1863, the em-he is at liberty to overfook, and that he trusts "that proper investigation into such a state of things will be promptly made, to the end that this system of logoling the public and the taxpayers may be summarily abdilabed." In this respect I louestly agree with his Honor, so that if, through myself or subordinates, with or without my knowledge or concurrence, anything has been done to leach the taxpayers and the proble, if may be ascertained and planed to the account of the delinquent. It may be, and I do not pretend to deny it, that some of the officers of the decourtment did not properly perform their duties, but I did not know it. It is impossible for the head of a large department like this to know that all of the subordinates perform their duties, and it is the duty of any faithful older to apprise me of any seglet on their part, and I desire the investigation proposed by the Mayor, in order to piace the dereliction of duty where it belongs.

But there are many things contained in the communication it is the duty of any rathrill odder to appress to any appression to their part, and I desire the investigation proposed, by the Mayor, in order to place the dereliction of duty where it belongs.

But there are many things contained in the communication of Mr. Garr (which, by enclosing it to you, the Mayor has made a part of his message, not directly altituded to by his Honor, but in regard to which I desire to deabuse your minds. Mr. Carr has gone far out of his way to make as sertions without the possibility of proof, but containing an their face action possible of the desired to decree to the other services without the possibility of proof, but containing an their face action possible of the desired to decree to expectably as the Mayor seems to endorse his assertions by officially communicating them to you.

I will pass over lightly his desire to "avoid personalities," while at the asme time asserting that the present City Inspector does not possess those literary and peculiar intellectual abilities required for the discharge of his duties, and leave to him the indirectly claimed talents which he demise to me. But why, if he possessed these abilities, has he not placed them at the disposal of his superior, who has relatated him in his office, where he acknowleges himself that he dynaming his pay of two thousand five hundred dollars a year, without performing any adequate Service therafor? It is generally supposed that when an incompetent head of a department employs a gentleman of the ability which Mr. Carr supposes, and indirectly asserts he possesses, that those abilities are the cause of his employment. I am sorry to say, gentleman, that since my incumbency I have not been able to discover these great abilities. By his own acknowledgment he has done nothing for which so honest and scrupulous a gentleman should have recedied two thousand five hundred dollars a year. Not one single practical augestion have I received from him, more one evidence of practical augestion have I received from him, more evidence saligations made by him upon which the Mayor founds his nessage.

So far as these assertions and allegations are directly contained in the Mayors message, I think I have sublicionity refuted them, and whether I have done so or not, the Committee of Investigation proposed by the Mayor, and solicited by Investigation proposed by the Mayor, and solicited the Mayor of the Proposed of the Investigation of the Last Common Council in the Mayor of the Mayor amount thus transferred became exhausted the City Inspector, as in duty bound, called the attention of the Common Council to the fact that further provision was necessary, and suggested to that body that the Board of health recommended to them to provide by means of bonds "or otherwise" for the expense of the work authorized and directed by them to be performed. If this constitutes an effect on the part of the present City Inspector to obtain any irresponsible power, then honeses for to perform any duty devoted upon a public editeer constitutes a crime. The communications made by me to the Common Council upon the subject during the past few months will show whether such a charge is founded in truth or in

show whether such a charge is founded in fruit or in mailee.

In conclusion, I would say that I do not think it necessary to notice further the different charges or insimations made by Mr. Carr, as I think them clearly refuted by the plain sistement of facts I have here presented. And beaties, I confidently expect, in justice to myssif, as well as to the interests of the city, that your honorable body will append to produce indubitable proof of everything I have stated. If I do not thoroughty controver before such committee all of the charges and insimuations made by Mr. Carr, I am ready and willing to abide the result—namely, the III opinion of my fellow citizens and the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the charges and the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the charges and the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the charges and the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the charges and the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the control of the charges and the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the charges and the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the charges and the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the charges and the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the charges and the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the charges and the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the charges are the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the charges and the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the charges are the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the charges and the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the charges and the disgrace attaching to such derived the control of the charges and the disgrace attaching to the charge the disgrace attaching to the discrete discrete the discrete discrete the discrete discrete discrete the discrete di Alderman Harry moved as an amendment that it be inserted in the World.

Alderman Fariax wished a further amendment by inserting the Staats Zeitung.

Alderman Joses asked if the communication would not be published by the newspapers, as they did that of Mr. Carr, without the authority of this Board.

Alderman Harry said that the object was to give the refutation to the charges as much publicity as the charges themselves had received in the papers.

Alderman Joses desired to avoid the expense, because he was of opinion that the publication would cost the city $3,000.

Alderman Ryras—It is but just that the refutation should get as wide a circulation as the charges. The defence is a very excellent one, and I have no doubt it will settle the public mind on a subject which involves charges against a public officer—the head of a department, in the proper conduct of which we all, as members of the Common Council of New York, feel deeply interested.

the refutation. I am willing to vindicate any cityrofficial if he is right; but I am also inclined to censure him if he is wrong.

Alderman RYKES said the gentleman (Mr. Jones) is under a wrong impression. The committee do intend to make a rejort on this matter, but at the same time I desire that the communications containing the charges and the refutation should be published in those papers named. Alderman Hardy said—I object to the expense of republishing the communication containing the charges against the City_Inspector's Department, and will amend by moving for the publication of the answer.

Alderman RYKEN hoped the gentleman (Alderman Hardy) would withdraw his amendment. The charges sent is by the Mayor were grave, and it was necessary, for a clear understanding of the case, to publish both together.

Alderman Jones—I want to know what the duties of the committee will be after these publications are made. I do not see the use of publishing them decuments. Let the committee, as I said before, send for Mr. Carr and Mr. Boole and examine them. I am speaking on a master of economy. I wish Mr. Boole to be exemerated, and Mr. Boole and examine them. I am speaking on a master of economy. I wish Mr. Boole to be exemerated, and Mr. Boole and examine them. I am speaking on a master of economy. Alderman RYKEN thought that a very ridiculous question to put to the President of this Board, who was certainly not eitting in an editorial chair.

The question was then put, and carried by a vote of 11 to 2, the President (Henry) and Jones voting in the negative.

The second National Bank of Utica, N. Y., has increased its capital stock from one to two hundred thousand dollars.

By the provisions of the National Banking law the government can pay out the issues of the new banks, in discharging its obligations, for every debt except interest on its bonds, and to that extent the act makes those notes a legal tender. The question has now arisen whether the government, under the authority thus conferred, can cancel the seven and three-tenths Treasury notes and other loans unless they become due with the national bank issues.

The fourth and fifth mortgage bonds of the Erie Railroad are being converted into common stock. The Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad Company make the following comparative statement of the receipts from all sources during the years 1862 and
